Schools reopen, I note attention is being paid to training students in trades and I chanced upon a remark by Thomas Carlyle, which said; "The man who has found out how he can ask no further question. Once, as a small boy, I was to become a tailor. Well was when I was to learn a lot. From then on through the trades and professions often. But, if I tell the truth, I feel that I have only work that I might do — and so, I thank the Lord, do the English historian, and I suspect you, too, are doing the same. I really feel deep down inside.

The record of one of our former athletes, Freddie Mitchell, has recently been announced as coach for District 4 and 3 of the Public League, for sports-writers. He last basketball seat. The award was made by the Virginia Officials Association. He played on last season's A. H. S. team, and is a junior at this session.

Mrs. Ruth of Vinton, has an article in the Hobbies Magazine which is one of my old favorites. I have and is in the office of business in Atlanta, Ga., would be the artist, Art Deco, was to music fans of a long ago as "The Whisperers." Annual Meeting Electric Co-op Feature Youth of Area

The annual meeting of Southside Electric Cooperative will see a new feature as the youth of Virginia takes over. C. Fred Hunsucker, states that "day will be under the direction of outstanding FFA members.

The meeting will be held on Saturday, September 7th and opens at 10:00 A. M. at George Peters and Vernon Reynolds, Keysville, Virginia. Virginia, master of ceremonies for the day. Both boys and Goodpasture, George is a member of the Randolph-Henry Chapter and a member of the Victory Band. At 9:30 A. M., the business session will be given. At 10:30 A. M., you will find Delegate Watkins M. Abbitt, of Amelia, giving the address of the day.

Southside Electric Cooperative, Inc., P. O. S. Williams, Jr., manager, will welcome the members. Tom Hall, president of Victoria FFA Chapter, will in turn give the president's report.

Directors of the Co-op will be introduced by R. C. Claypool, the president, and Mr. Claypool will then turn the meeting over to the youth hosts. Mr. Claypool's home county

Mr. Peters, Jr., manager, will introduce Hawthorne, of Victoria FFA and Carl Wells, of Randolph-Henry. The two youthful hosts will tell of the past twenty years of SEC progress and outline plans for the next 20 years of service.

Following this will be a short business session, presided over by Lynwood Wilson, the SEC attorney. This being the election of directors, Mr. Wilson couldn't bow out of the picture.

10:55 A. M. will be entertainment time as Jo Elam, a 4-H Club All Star, from Powhatan County, takes over as mistress of ceremonies. The Hudson Sisters, of Charlotte County, Jean, Ann and Nancy, with their accompanyist, Joanne Van Horn, will render a group of trio numbers. They will be followed by the Carson Sisters, of Appomattox, Laura and Cary Ann. They will render a group of popular selections.

The entertainment will be followed by David A. Hamil, REA Administrator, of Washington, D. C., who will present Nick Elam, of Powhatan, a 4-H'er, who will then give Mr. Hamil's address to the members.

At noon, the luncheon time, will find a country music group entertaining.

This will mark the first time in history that one of the more than one thousand electric cooperatives has turned their annual meeting over to their youth, future members of the cooperative, as they plan for a bright and fruitful tomorrow.

U. S. schools will be more crowded than ever.

Moses Begins Term as Appomattox Mayor

C. T. Moses, Jr. this week began his duties as Mayor of the Town of Appomattox, starting a two-year term to which he was elected last June. Also starting new terms were six members of the Town Council.

One of the first acts of the new Mayor was to arrange for a town nightwatchman. This was worked out at a meeting with the council Monday morning.

Mr. Moses succeeds Richard D. Robinson as Mayor. Three new and three old councilmen began terms. New members are John S. Grinels, C. C. Poe and C. Lewis McDearmon. Old members are T. Hunter Dickerson, J. C. Caldwell and G. E. Smith.

Upon taking office, Mayor Moses issued the following statement to the citizens of the Town:

"To the Citizens of the Town of Appomattox:

"Upon assuming the duties of the office of Mayor, I want to assure you that I shall exert every effort that I have, with your advice, to make Appomattox a more progressive, civic-minded and beautiful town in which to live.

"I know that the six gentlemen whom you have elected to the council are willing to work long and hard for the best interest of the town and the citizens, and I am sure that they will welcome your guidance at all times.

"It is my desire to see that you are kept properly informed of the matters that come before and are passed by the council at all times. The council meetings are open to all and you are invited to attend at any time you wish.

"As of Monday, Sept. 1st, a night watchman has been placed on duty as a temporary measure to protect you and your property. In event you need his services, telephone: 4595, 3275, or 3601.

"With the help of our good people we are going to make a concerted effort to clean our streets and beautify our town. In order for this to be a success, we are going to need your cooperation and assistance. Let's all keep this in mind and work toward the goal of a more beautiful town.

"We have arrangements, with the opening of schools, to see that the children are safeguarded as buses leave the school.

"Remember, your problems are our problems, so let's try to solve them together.

Sincerely,
C. T. Moses, Jr."

October Date For Committee Election in Co.

According to C. D. Lewis, chairman of the Appomattox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, the ASC Committee elections for Appomattox County have been scheduled for the month of October in order that newly elected County and Community Committeemen may assume office on November 1, 1957.

Community Committeemen will be elected in a county convention being in October also. For the purpose of this election, community boundary lines will conform to the Magisterial district lines for the county.

Mr. Lewis stated that eligible voters will be informed by letter and news releases at a later date as to the date and method of voting in each community.

Livestock Tour Is Arranged

All Appomattox County farmers are invited to attend a county livestock tour Saturday, Sept. 7, leaving by bus from the county agent's office at 8:00 A. M.

The tour will start with the first stop at Leon Paulett's, Evergreen, for a look at meat type hogs, feeding hogs as a supplementary income, type demonstration of gilts and boars, the place of sheep on Appomattox County farms and type of sheep to select.

The second stop will be at Stuart Farrar's, Pamplin, and will deal with culling the cow herd, grading feeder calves, bull type demonstration, external and internal parasite control.

The third stop will be at Lester Carson's, Concord, and will cover feeding steers, the use of stilbestrol and a discussion of several steer feeding operations that may fit into the farming operation.

The tour will be over by 12:30 P. M. Cold watermelon will be served after the tour. Mr. Curtis Mast, Beef Cattle Specialist from V. P. I., will lead the discussion. Bus fare will be only a few cents.

The Appomattox Jaycees are cooperating in this tour.

Demonstration Club Schedule

Schedule of home demonstration club meetings next week:

PERMANENT POST: Dennis Torrence, Rt. 3, Appomattox, stands beside concrete mail box post which he constructed in the local Vocational Agriculture shop. The mail box post is one of the improvement projects sponsored by the Appomattox FFA Chapter.

Local High School Enrolls 525 As New Session Began Wed.

Principal Kenneth Christopher stated this morning that 525 pupils enrolled yesterday as the new term began at the Appomattox High School. This compared with 509 on opening day last year. Included in yesterday's total were 12 pupils transferred from other divisions, and thereby filled out pupil school assignment forms.

Mr. Christopher stated that the opening day ran reasonably smooth and that the enrollment was about as expected. Late enrollments may move the total figure up to 550.

The teachers met on Tuesday to make final plans for the opening of the new session. Division officials, health officers, etc. were present to discuss matters of concern in connection with the school program.

New Disease Found in Cattle Herds

Vesicular stomatitis, a disease that has occurred periodically in Virginia for many years, has recently been diagnosed in six cattle in Appomattox County.

The disease causes few deaths but does cause reduction in weight and production. It is important for veterinarians to know of its existence because of its resemblance to more severe diseases such as vesicular exanthema and foot and mouth disease. It is impossible to tell the difference between vesicaur stomatitis and the other two diseases on the basis of visible symptoms. Any condition resembling these diseases must be definitely identified to eliminate the danger of their becoming established. Herd owners are requested to contact the county agent in order that the area veterinarian may be notified.

Vesicular stomatitis in cattle starts with the formation of small blisters in the mouth, so delicate that it is unusual for an owner to notice them The first symptoms that are usually noticed are excessive "drooling" and loss of weight. When the animal is examined more closely the lips, gums and dental pad are found to be inflamed with a thick cheesy, yellow material sticking to them. A foul odor may be present. The tip of the tongue may be purple with the mucuous membrane partially or completely separated from it.

Blisters may appear on the teats and form lesions that resemble those of cow-pox. Inflamed area may appear just above the hoof and between the toes causing lameness. Symptoms in swine are the same as those in vesicular exanthema and foot and mouth disease.

Humans also are susceptible to vesicular stomatitis, and the symptoms resemble those of the virus of influenza, including fever, sore throat, headache, and soreness of the back and chest muscles.

The disease is caused by a virus and can be spread by contact with animals in the early stages. Some species of insects are considered important factors in the spread of the disease, which is seasonal, usually appearing in the summer and subsiding in the fall. Treatment is designed to reduce or eliminate complications. Recovery is rapid in uncomplicated cases. Infected animals should be isolated for one week as soon as observed and put on a soft diet. Milk should not be used or shipped for one week after onset of symptoms.

The Administration's economy drive in military spending goes on, with the Air Force canceling a $1000,000 fighter plane contract, and the Navy slashing $90,000,000 for various types of airplanes.

The Pentagon admits millions of waste at air bases.

Softball League

Simpson's softball team won the final play-off series in the Appomattox Softball League, downing Oakville, 3 games to one. The final game was played last Friday night at the town park. League officials declare that the softball season here was "one of the best," and doubtless will plan for another schedule next year.

SCHOOL PUPILS

When the school bells begin ringing all over the nation in the next week, there will be an estimated total of 43,135,000 young people enrolling in the schools and colleges of the country. The college student enrollment of 3,560,000 is an estimated increase of some 206,000 this year, according to the U. S. Education Commission.

RATS BIG CONSUMERS

Rats are a community problem. They destroy property, contaminate food, carry diseases.

Rodent droppings contaminate food products. A recent mid-west study showed contamination ranging up to 20% of wheat in storage. Rat-borne disease has killed more human beings than all the wars in history. The rat's feet, fur and digestive tract carry millions of germs.

Rats can start fires by chewing wires. They undermine buildings, and may cause flooding by burrowing in embankments.

In the United States alone, rats still cause an estimated 1 million dollars damage in a single year. They destroy as much food as one out of every 25 farms produces.

There is no need for this waste. Rats can be economically controlled in almost all situations. If you want information on the most satisfactory rat control procedure for your particular situation, contact the county agent's office.

Coach Gordon Bragg will unveil his 1957 Appomattox High School football team here at 8:00 P. M. on Friday, Sept. 13, with the Blackstone Rams as opponents. Playing at Blackstone last year, the A. H. S. Blue Hornets won 20 to 6.

The Blue Hornets had a record of 8 wins and one loss last year, but were not eligible for the district league title, not having enough league games on the schedule. This year, Coach Bragg has lined up enough league games to qualify. He has 17 lettermen on his squad, with experience mostly in the backfield and at end. The interior line will need to show improvement to match the line of last year. Players lost from last year's squad include: Tommie O'Brien, now at Virginia Tech; Buddy Poe, who will attend Virginia Tech; Fountain Conner who plans to go to the University of Virginia; Jack Caldwell, who plans to attend R. P. I.; Bradley Babcock, who is working with the F. B. I.; Joe Fuller, who is in the Marines.

This year's squad will consist of the following players:

Ends: Bobby Connor, Karl Carter, Raymond Ferguson, Sandy Burks, Randy Almond, Cecil Wooldridge

Tackles: Joey George, Wesley Carr, Palmer Moore, Jack Henry, Donald Baldwin, Douglas Maxwell

Guards: Dennis Drinkard, Luther Reynolds, Brian Thomas, Robert Mann

Centers: Cecil Doss and Charles Crawley

Backs: Freddie Mitchell, Richard Robinson, L. N. Garrette, Raymond Massie, Carroll Ferguson, Ronnie Mann, Dan Coleman, Arnold Whitehead, Dickie Guill, Frank Phelps, Leon Edmunds, Terrell Martin, Bill Caldwell.

Raymond Massie and Terrell Martin are co-captains for the coming season.

The Junior Varsity will start practice on Sept. 4, the day that school opens.

TB ASS'N. SECRETARY AT TEACHERS' MEETING

Mrs. Emma G. Anthony, secretary of the Southside Tuberculosis Association, Farmville, attended two pre-school teacher meetings here on Tuesday, at Appomattox High School and Carver-Price High School. She brought kits of school material, posters and pamphlet information to the teachers, and told of clinics to be held in October.

HOST TO TEACHERS

The Distributive Education Club and Diversified Occupations Club of Appomattox High School served coffee and cookies in the high school cafeteria to the members of the Appomattox County Teachers Association preceding the first annual meeting of the association on Tuesday, Sept. 3.

The members of the two clubs made a backdrop which was used behind the serving table, with the theme, "Teachers, Welcome Back to School." Also on the back drop were the words, "School Daze," with items depicting various records that teachers are required to keep, such as: permanent records, guidance folders, grade books, registers and so forth.

Members of the clubs decided at their meeting in August to entertain the teachers as a small token of appreciation for the fine service the teachers in Appomattox County have performed.

Club members who worked on the back drop, made cookies and served were: David Almond, Shirley Nash, Christine Irby, Fay Tignor, Virginia Franklin, Virginia Rush, and Betty Tillery. Mrs. Joan Smith sponsors both clubs.
